

Emigrating Animals and Migratory Humans: Belonging, Prosperity and Security in More-Than-Human World

Dates: 10–11 September 2019

Venue: Na Florenci 3 (Lower Hall), Prague 1, Czech Republic

Workshop organised by Luděk Brož, Giovanna Capponi, Paul Keil, Jiří Krejčík & Virginie Vaté
Kindly supported by Strategy 21 – Global Conflicts and Local Interactions
& Institute of Ethnology and Institute of Sociology, Czech Academy of Sciences (CAS) and CEFRES (CNRS-MEAE)

DAY 1

- 9.45 Getting to know each other over a cup of tea or coffee
10.00–10.30 Welcome address and introduction (Luděk Brož, Giovanna Capponi, Jiří Krejčík & Virginie Vaté)

Session 1. Chair: Daniel Sosna, Institute of Ethnology CAS

- 10.30–11.00 Porcine Proto-Ecologies: Activating an Infra-Species Cosmopolitics
Aníbal G. Arregui, University of Barcelona
11.00–11.30 Fencing, Zoning, Bordering – The Spatial Governance of ‘Risky’ Animal Mobilities
Larissa Fleischmann, Martin-Luther-Universität Halle-Wittenberg
11.30–12.00 Impacts of the Biosecurity and Conservation Biology Discourse around the Control of Wild Boar Expansion in South America: the Case of Uruguay
Juan Martin Dabezies, Universidad de la República, Uruguay / University of Roehampton, University of Kent

- 12.00–13.30 Lunch

Session 2. Chair: Jiří Krejčík, Institute of Sociology CAS

- 13.30–14.00 Naturalizing Landscapes, Naturalizing Animal Migrants: Giant Tortoise Rewilding in the Indian Ocean
Lisa Jenny Krieg, Universität Bonn
14.00–14.30 Controlling Non-Human Marine Migrants: Border Regimes Invasive Species and Thalassopolitics in the Mediterranean Sea
Karin Ahlberg, Stockholm University
14.30–15.00 Moving for Animals: Considering the Future of Animal-Based Tourism
Erica von Essen, Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences

- 15.00–15.30 Coffee break

Session 3. Chair: Giovanna Capponi, CEFRES

- 15.30–16.00 Hierarchy as a Harmony? Contradictions of the Indian Environmental Thinking
Jiří Krejčík, Institute of Sociology CAS
16.00–16.30 Don't Shoot the Messenger
Khalil Avi, Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology
16.30–17.30 Discussion (chair: Virginie Vaté, CNRS, CEFRES)
18.30 Pub dinner

DAY 2

Session 4. Chair: Michal Šípoš, Institute of Ethnology CAS, Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology

- 9.30–10.00 Emerging Sexual Nationalism in Eastern Europe in the Context of the Refugee Crisis
Petra Andits, Tel Aviv University
- 10.00–10.30 Working with the Metaphor of the Migrant-Parasite: the Moral Economy of State Agents in Charge of Implementing the Fight against Marriage of Convenience in Brussels
Maité Maskens, Université Libre de Bruxelles
- 10.30–11.00 Belonging is Everything: Thoughts from Indian Migrants in the UAE
Caroline Osella, University of Sussex
- 11.00–11.30 Coffee break

Session 5. Chair: Aníbal G. Arregui, University of Barcelona

- 11.30–12.00 Governing Animals' Mobilities: Resurgence and Proliferation in Novel European Ecologies
Jamie Lorimer, University of Oxford
- 12.00–12.30 Nonhuman Mobiles and Feral Ecologies
Maan Barua, University of Cambridge
- 12.30–13.00 Rewilding Politics – Debating the Modes of Coexistence between Sedentary Wolves and People in Northern Germany
Julia Poerting, University of Bonn
- 13.00–14.00 Lunch

Session 6. Chair: Erica von Essen, Swedish University of Agricultural Studies

- 14.00–14.30 FERAL FEVER: Pig-Virus Mobilities in the Border Zones of Global Capital
Bettina Stoetzer, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
- 14.30–15.00 Migratory Chickens, Immigrant Birds: the Wild/Domestic Borderland in the Context of Avian Influenza in Hong Kong
Frédéric Keck, CNRS, Laboratoire d'Anthropologie Sociale
- 15.00–15.30 From Metaphors to Homologies? Conceptualizing Mobility, Belonging and Security in More-than-human World
Luděk Brož, Institute of Ethnology CAS and CEFRES
- 15.30–16.00 Coffee break
- 16.00–18.00 Discussion (chair: Luděk Brož, Institute of Ethnology CAS and CEFRES)
- 19.00 Dinner